WEDNESDAY EVENING FESTIVALS AT THE CLEVELAND MUSEUM OF ART

The sounds of the Mark Gridley Jazz Quartet and the humor of the Marx Brothers in Animal Crackers come to The Cleveland Museum of Art on July 19 as part of the Museum's free Wednesday Evening Festivals. Additional free events include a film on artist Helen Frankenthaler, a lecture about Sasanian art, and a workshop on Paul Klee (pronounced clay). A box supper is available by reservations for $4.50. Jazz begins at 5:30 with most other events scheduled for 7:30. For more information call The Cleveland Museum of Art at 421-7340, ext. 419.
